AARP ElderWatch Project fights the financial exploitation of older Americans in the state of Colorado through collection of data, extensive outreach and education, and the provision of technical assistance.

The Project provides information to and coordinates efforts by the state's law enforcement offices, adult protection and mental health agencies and organizations assisting older Americans - as well as efforts undertaken by older Americans themselves.

The Legal Center is an independent public interest non-profit specializing in civil rights and discrimination issues. It protects the human, civil and legal rights of people with mental and physical disabilities, people with HIV, and older people throughout Colorado. The Legal Center's primary goal is to open up the legal system to those who would otherwise be unable to voice their needs because of the complexity of the service bureaucracy, their disability or because they are unable to act on their own behalf.

Elder Justice Colorado views senior citizens in Greater Denver as a growing and vital segment of our community. These seniors are often overlooked and underserved. Elder Justice Colorado seeks to remedy this by protecting senior's interests through free or subsidized legal services, advocacy, and referrals to existing resources. Further, Elder Justice Colorado seeks to effect change by educating the community concerning matters specific to the senior population.
