Denver – The Colorado Civil Rights Division of the Department of Regulatory Agencies (DORA) will participate in the Foreclosure Assistance Fair to be held on Saturday, November 22, between 9:00 a.m. and noon, at the Larimer County Fairgrounds and Events Complex in Loveland, Colorado. DORA's Civil Rights Division and the Division of Real Estate will partner with other organizations, such as the Colorado Foreclosure Hotline, one of the event's sponsors, to provide education concerning risky lending practices and foreclosure assistance. Along with numerous organizations addressing the topics, representatives of the Civil Rights Division will be providing information regarding discriminatory lending practices to consumers.

DORA is dedicated to preserving the integrity of the marketplace and is committed to promoting a fair and competitive business environment in Colorado. Consumer protection is our mission.
