I. BY THE COMMISSION

A. Statement

1. Rule 3205(c) of the Colorado Public Utilities Commission's (Commission) Rules

Regulating Electric Utilities, 4 Code of Colorado Regulations 723-3, requires:

[f]or each new construction or expansion of existing generation that will result in an increase in generating capacity of ten megawatts or more, the electric utility shall submit to the Commission, no later than April 30 of each year, a filing for a determination of which of the utility's proposed new construction or expansions for the next three calendar years, commencing with the year following the filing, are necessary in the ordinary course of business and which require a certificate of public convenience and necessity prior to construction.

2. Public Service Company of Colorado, on April 30, 2020, filed information on the proposed replacement of certain turbine parts for the combustion turbine units 1 and 2 at Rocky Mountain Generating Station which will result in an estimated 39 MW of increased capacity. Specific information on the project may be found in the utility's report filing in this proceeding on file with the Commission.

3. Black Hills Colorado Electric, LLC (Black Hills), filed correspondence on April 13, 2020, stating that it “does not have new or expanded generation projects, greater than 10 MW and planned for the next three years (2021-2023), for which the Company: 1) needs a Commission determination whether such projects are normal course of business; or, 2) will require a certificate of public convenience and necessity (‘CPCN’) prior to construction.”¹

4. Rule 3205(d) provides that the Commission will give notice of the filings to those who, in the opinion of the Commission, may be interested in the filings, and provides for comments to be filed by May 15, 2020.

5. Due to an administrative oversight, no notice of the filings was issued prior to the comment due date of May 15, 2020. As permitted by Commission Rule 1003 et al. of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, 4 Code of Colorado Regulations 723-1, the Commission will waive Rule 3205(d).
