COLORADO COMPANY SANCTIONED BY SECURITIES COMMISSIONER

Denver, Colorado --- Colorado Securities Commissioner Fred J. Joseph announced today that he has entered a final cease and desist order against a Colorado company that touted adult oriented web sites for allegedly violating the securities registration and licensing provisions of the Colorado Securities Act (“Act”) in connection with the offer and sale of securities in and from Colorado.

Named in the Order are Income Solutions, Inc., Kevin Lorimer, its president, and Nona Lee, all of Steamboat Springs, Colorado. Lorimer used the trade name of Goliath Productions to conduct his adult oriented web site business in conjunction with Income Solutions.

The Staff of the Division of Securities (the “Staff”) has alleged that in March of 2005, the Respondents offered investments in Income Solutions and Goliath through online advertisements in the Boulder Weekly newspaper. At least one Colorado investor invested in this investment opportunity. In exchange for his investment, the investor received the alleged right to receive a percentage from every membership in the Goliath

Production web sites, the right to receive 12% interest on the investment, and upon incorporation of Goliath Productions, receive shares of common stock. The Staff alleged that the Respondents attempted to sell, and did sell, these interests, which are securities, without registering the securities with the Division, and in a fraudulent manner.

The cease and desist order, which Income Solutions, Lorimer, and Leigh agreed to, orders them to immediately and permanently cease and desist offering or selling any “security” in or from the State of Colorado in violation of the registration and anti-fraud provisions of the Act or otherwise engaging in conduct in violation of any provision of the Act.
